Introduction

The Minerva consortium implemented RDA cataloging rules on January 1, 2014. Effective on that date, all new bibliographical records added to the Minerva catalog, whether original or imported, were required to comply with the new rules. Catalogers finding records to which their library has an item attached AFTER January 1, 2014, should take the time to bring the record up to current RDA standards.

Some of the rule changes are major, and others are minor. Many cataloging factors did not see any changes whatsoever. However, anyone creating bib records in Minerva is expected to understand and employ RDA exclusively. This guide is not intended to replace the actual RDA Toolkit, access to which is currently available only by online subscription, nor is it intended to replace actual cataloging training. Rather, the goal of the following manual is to provide guidelines for RDA cataloging specifically in Minerva.

These guidelines outline and explain the RDA "core elements" that are required for acceptable bibliographic records and also provide Minerva policies regarding certain optional elements. The guide does not replace the "Acceptable Cataloging for Minerva Libraries" document (Acceptable Cataloging for Minerva Libraries) and will be periodically updated in order to reflect rule changes. Lead catalogers at each Minerva Library are responsible for their staff knowing about updates and rule changes.

The Minerva Cataloging Permissions Policy is in effect as approved by the Minerva Executive Council on 11/20/2024. Minerva Cataloging Permissions Policy .

Prior to January 2014, we were allowing bib records that used both AACR2 and RDA, and in some instances, a combination of both. After 01/01/2014, these "hybrids" were no longer acceptable. [Catalogers have a shared responsibility to update existing records to the best of their ability to meet the RDA requirements.]

Numerous new MARC fields have been created since 2014 to accommodate new and modified cataloging practices. Catalogers are required to use these new fields along with both existing and new choices of indicators and subfield codes. Where these elements are required, they may not be omitted. If a cataloger is unsure of what indicator or subfield code is appropriate, they must take steps to find the answer. Blanks where indicators should be used are NOT acceptable. Please note that examples in this text with the character # in indicator spaces mean that a numerical indicator is not used in that space. While working on records in Sierra, use of the right click function in Sierra for MARC Tag Info is encouraged.

Questions and suggestions for policy changes should be directed to the Minerva Cataloging Standards Committee (MCSC) via email at: minerva.cataloging@gmail.com

For MCSC current membership information: Minerva Cataloging Standards Committee

RDA Vocabulary

MARC field indicators with # designations or blue boxes in this document shall stand for a "blank" in the actual bib record [see examples below].

PHYS DESC	300	#	#	724 pages :|billustrations, map :|c24 cm
PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION	300			xiii, 282 pages ;|c21 cm

Other reference resources outside of Minerva often use underscore markings for blank indicator spaces 300 _ _ 2 audiocassettes (60 min. each)

Resource Description and Access (RDA) is a standard for descriptive cataloging providing instructions and guidelines on formulating bibliographic data. Intended for use by libraries and other cultural organizations such as museums and archives, RDA is the successor to Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, Second Edition (AACR2). Additional examples of records and MARC fields related to RDA cataloging can be found: RDA examples from RDA toolkit

What is a "Resource"? A resource can be tangible or intangible, and can be all of 4 things:

- Work
- Expression
- Manifestation
- Item

WORK: a work is a distinct intellectual or artistic creation. Examples: the original book "War and Peace" by Tolstoy, or the painting "Starry Night" by Van Gogh.

EXPRESSION: the intellectual or artistic realization of a work in the form of alpha-numeric, musical or choreographic notation, sound, image, object, etc., or any combination of such forms. Examples: a movie of "War and Peace", or a drawing of "Starry Night" by another person.

MANIFESTATION: the physical embodiment of an expression of a work, such as a print book, ebook, dvd, compact disc, online, etc. Examples: "War and Peace" in ebook format; a digital image of "Starry Night".

ITEM: a single exemplar or instance of a manifestation. Examples: a copy of War and Peace owned by a library or an individual; the original painting, or a framed reproduction.

Core Elements (REQUIRED)

MARC LEADER: The MARC leader's "cat form" must be coded "i" in RDA records.

MARC Leader	##### c a m 2 2 ##### i 4 5 0 0

	LEN FIELD	4	LEN START	5	LEN IMPL	0

MARC 040: this field is a core element, used for entering "cataloging agency" data, must include an |e subfield coded "rda" (|erda)

MARC	040			DLC|beng|erda|cDLC

If you are creating an original bib record, insert an 040 field with your library's organization MARC code (https://www.loc.gov/marc/organizations/org-search.php) and the |erda subfield. If your library does not have one of these organization codes, use "Me" for Maine. Example: 040 Me|erda

MARC	040			Me|erda

IDENTIFIER (02X): the identifier for the manifestation is a required Core Element, and serves to differentiate a manifestation from other manifestations. Only the identifier number is to be included - no phrases in parentheses are allowed.

- If there is more than one identifier on a resource, use one that is internationally recognized, usually the ISBN (MARC 020), or the ISSN (MARC 022 for serials)
- Only one identifier is required in RDA; other identifiers are optional, but in bib records where more than one manifestation is attached, as in the case of paperbacks attached to hardcover bibs or trade edition audiobooks attached to library edition bibs, Minerva catalogers should also include other identifying numbers including UPC numbers (024), other publisher's numbers (028), or other relevant ISBNs.
- The first MARC 020 field is the ISBN used in Sierra to link the image that appears in the OPAC.

PUBN #	020			9781959030348

NOT

PUBN #	020			006440546X (hardcover)

CREATOR (1XX): the main entry is a required Core Element. The creator is the entity that has the principal responsibility for the creation of a work. If more than 1 creator is responsible for the work, only the principal creator named first is required by RDA. If the cataloger deems that any additional creators are important enough to be access points, they should be entered in 7XX fields.

- RDA requires the use of a "relationship designator" following the authorized version of the creator's name. This element is presented in the subfield "e".
  Example: "100 1# Kulin, Ayse, |eauthor."

AUTHOR	100	1		Kulin, Ayşe,|eauthor.

- Relationship designators should also be used with 7XX added access points.
- Consult https://www.loc.gov/marc/annmarcrdarelators.html for a list of standard relationship designators.

TITLE PROPER (245): refer to https://www.loc.gov/marc/bibliographic/bd20x24x.html for details regarding the title proper.

- Capitalization: continue the current practice of capitalizing the first word of the title and proper nouns only
- Errors: don't correct intentional misspellings in the 245. Transcribe the title as found on the source; add a 246 3# field for the "correct" title to help patrons find the item

TITLE	245	1	0	Pet sematary /|cStephen King.
ALTERNATE TITLE	246	2	3	Pet cemetary

- Numbers: transcribe numbers as found

OTHER TITLE INFORMATION found in the 245 field: subtitles and other title elements, in conjunction with and subordinate to the Title Proper, are core elements. Use MARC 245 subfield |b.

TITLE	245	1	0	James :|ba novel /|cPercival Everett.

STATEMENT OF RESPONSIBILITY (245|c): A statement of responsibility (SOR) relating to the Title Proper if present on the resource is a core element. If more than one entity is given in the SOR, only the first named contributor is required and the others are optional. Transcribe as given.

- Minerva will continue to follow the "rule of 3" from AACR2, which is optional in RDA. If appropriate, provide the first 3 names in the 245 field, followed by [and others]. Note that Latin abbreviations such as "et. al." and "etc." are not used in RDA. Provide 7XX field access points for any other responsible entities named after the primary one.

EDITION (250): an edition statement is a core element if one appears on the resource. This can be expressed as "edition, issue, revised, update" and so on. Transcribe as given.

- If an edition statement is not found on the item, but it is known that the item is a new and/or revised version of an earlier work, this may be expressed in a MARC 250 in brackets, for example [2nd revised edition].
- Large print editions of printed books may designated as such, for example "250 ## [large print edition]".

PUBLICATION AREA (264): The place of publication, name of publisher, and date of publication are core elements for cataloging published resources. The MARC 260 field has been made obsolete, and has been replaced by MARC 264 which is repeatable. New indicators and subfields have also been created for use in the 264 field and they are required. Blank spaces where these codes should be used are not acceptable. Abbreviations are not used unless they appear on the resource.

The publication area provides specific and detailed information in a prescribed structure and in a defined sequence:

- The 264 field is the primary publication statement. Hint: With the cursor on the 264, use the right click function in Sierra and select "Marc Tag info". This will display the options for indicators and subfield codes.
- Supply the publication place, publisher's name, and publication date in 264#1. If any of these factors are not found on the resource, state this in brackets, "[Place of publication not found]".
  - If no place of publication is present, enter it in brackets if it is probable
  - If no place of publication can be named, enter another 264 with the place of distribution
  - If no place of publication and distribution is known, enter another 264 with place of manufacturer or printer
    - The same procedure applies regarding name of publisher, etc.
- The order of preference for 264 fields is
  1. Publisher name, first place of publication, date
  2. Distributor's name, first place of distribution, date
  3. Manufacturer's name, place, date
  4. If none of the above information is available, state "[Publisher not identified]"

For more detailed information about the Publication Area, consult MARC documentation at http://www.loc.gov/marc/bibliographic/bd264.html

- DATE OF PUBLICATION (264|c): Core element. If no publication date is given, but a copyright date is available and you are able to infer that the dates match, place that date in the 264#1 subfield "c" in brackets, [2012]. It is no longer necessary to add a second 264#4 providing the copyright date. However if the [probable] publication date and the copyright dates differ, add the 264#4 field and include the copyright symbol.
  Example: 264 # 4 |c©2012.

  Follow the same sequence as above if the publication date is not known.
  - If no date at all is available it is acceptable to use [probable]
  - If the date is given in Roman numerals, change it to Arabic numerals

- DATE TYPE (008): When more than one 264 is present, the 008 "date type" field should be coded "t" or "r" as appropriate, and the dates in the 264#1 and 264#4 should be entered in "date one" and "date two".

Physical description

- EXTENT (300): extent is a core element if the resource is complete or if the total extent is known and is recorded in MARC field 300. Extent is the number and type of units that make up a resource, including pages, plates, volumes, sheets, etc. Subfield code "|a is" assumed.
  - Do not abbreviate.
  - If the entire book has no page numbers, use the term "1 volume (unpaged)". If there is an unnumbered sequence of pages in an otherwise paginated book (plates, for example), use the term "unnumbered pages" (i.e., 176 pages, 10 unnumbered pages of plates)
  - Extent is not recorded in ebook records.

- SPECIFIC MATERIAL DESIGNATION (300): the format of the storage medium and housing of the carrier is a core element. Do not abbreviate except for time terms (hr., min., sec.).

- ILLUSTRATIVE CONTENT (300|b): in RDA, illustrative content is a core element for resources intended for children. In Minerva, continue to include information about illustrations in all resources in the 300## |b subfield, using descriptive terms such as plates, maps, etc. Note if the content is in color rather than black and white.

- DIMENSIONS (300|c): the measurement of the carrier is a core element, using the 300##|c subfield.
  - Measure in centimeters but use inches when describing discs and audio carriers.
  - Do not abbreviate anything except for "in ." for inches and "cm" for centimeters (this is considered a symbol rather than an abbreviation and should have no period unless there is a 490 series statement and then the cm is followed by a period).

- ACCOMPANYING MATERIAL (300|e): record information regarding significant accompanying materials in MARC 300 using the +|e subfield. When copy cataloging, verify in your item before accepting.

Content, Media, and Carrier

Reference Minerva document: RDA physical description fields by material type

CONTENT (336): the new MARC field 336 for describing content is a core element. This field categorizes the fundamental form of communication in which content is expressed --or in other words, the manifestation of the expression of the work, such as "text, spoken word, etc."

- A complete list of the terms that may be used to describe content is found at http://www.loc.gov/standards/valuelist/rdacontent.html.
- Content term is recorded in the 336 followed by subfield "|2rdacontent"
- When copy cataloging, some 336 fields will include a |b subfield, as in "336##text|btxt|2rdacontent". This is optional; in Minerva you may accept as found.
- This field is repeatable and may be used to describe significant accompanying material.

- MEDIA TYPE (337): the new MARC field 337 describes the type of intermediation device required to view, play, run, etc., the content of the resource, and is a core element. Go to http://www.loc.gov/standards/valuelist/rdamedia.html for the complete list of terms.
  - The |2 subfield "rdamedia" is required.
  - The |b subfield is optional.
  - The 337 field is repeatable.

CARRIER TYPE (338): MARC field 338 is a core element, and it categorizes the format of the storage medium and housing of the carrier used to convey the content of the resource. The list of terms is found at http://www.loc.gov/standards/valuelist/rdacarrier.html.

- The |2 subfield "rdacarrier" is required.
- The |b subfield is optional.
- The 338 field is repeatable.

- PHYSICAL MEDIUM (340): although it is not a core element, Minerva catalogers may opt to use the 340 field to record the "font" size of printed text when describing Large Print books. Do not use a GMD for this information.
  - Enter this in the record as "340##|nlarge print|2rda"
  - The n and 2 subfields are required.

Series (490): A series statement providing the Title Proper, numbering within series, and Title Proper and numbering of a subseries when present is a core element. Use MARC 490 for the series statement.

- The field must have the first indicator "0" if the series will not be traced. However, if the series has an authority record, use the 1st indicator "1" and enter an appropriate 800 or 830 field.
- See Series Cheat Sheet on the Maine InfoNet Cataloging Rules and Instruction page
- Make a 500 note regarding a series title if it is taken from outside your resource (such as found only on the author's website but not in your item and there is no authority record).
- If a series title and/or number are not present on the first volume, you may add that information in [brackets] (optional).
- Remember that MARC field 440 for series information is obsolete. Do not use this field, and if you find it in a record that you are importing, it should be updated to 490 according to current usage rules.

Order of Notes (5XX)

The order in which 5XX notes appear in the bib record is not prescribed by RDA. Because MARC has not changed, Minerva catalogers will continue to follow the order detailed in AACR2. "Make notes as set out in the following (AACR2) sub rules and in the order given there. However, give a particular note first when it has been decided that note is of primary importance" (source: Order of Notes, Does it Make a Difference?)

Checklist for importing/editing bibliographic records into the Minerva catalog

Records imported into the Minerva catalog from an outside source must be carefully reviewed to see if they meet RDA requirements. If a record does not include RDA specific fields, or if it appears to be a "hybrid" (contains both AACR2 and RDA elements), you will need to edit the record and add missing fields. Use the following prompts when importing new bibs or updating existing ones.

- Have you searched the Minerva catalog by title, author and ISBN without a match?
- Double click "Location" in the fixed fields and enter your library's 3 letter code. Click OK?
- Correct the initials for the INPUT LIBR field if your library has a unique code. Otherwise use " - "
- Is the material type in the fixed fields correct? Double click in the MAT TYPE box to see a complete list.
- Is the language correct (must match 008 entry) in the fixed fields?
- Is the SKIP field correct for non-filing characters? (a, an, the) Research non-filing characters in other languages.
- Is the BIB CODE 3 set to "0" for pre-publication items not in hand? Otherwise it should be " - "
- Expand the MARC Leader. Is the "cat form" coded "i"?
- If the item is a serial is the BIB LEVL set to "s"? Double click to get a complete list.
- Is the ENC LEVL set to pre-pub if appropriate? (8)
- Is the ENC LEVL changed to "full level" (no number) if the item is now in hand?
- Verify, using WorldCat, the 001 number if it is listed as an OCLC# in 003.
- Retain the 003 as imported if no OCLC# can be found (examples: SKY, DLC).
- Is an 006 field present for appropriate types of non-print material?
- Is the 007 field present for the appropriate type of non-print material?
- Is 008 complete with language and country codes?
- If the item is a continuing resource are there 2 dates present and is the 2nd date "9999"?

- The LC Card # (010) often has three extra spaces in front of the number, if they are there please leave them.
- Keep only the 020 ISBN from the item in hand, delete all others.
- If a 040 field is present, does it include subfield "|erda"? If no 040 is present the minimum is Me|erda
- Have you deleted 019 and 049 fields? (they should show red)
- Have you removed or changed the 09x fields that import? To retain the CALL # in the record, change the 09x to 082 and/or 050, save, then change the MARC TAG code from "c" to "y", then save again.
- Does the 1XX include the relationship designator in subfield |e? Have you verified?
- If the record has extra descriptors (Best-selling author, etc.) in the 245 field, have you removed them?
- Is there a 250 edition statement and does it match your item? If not, be sure you have the correct bib!
- Did you delete a 263 field if it exists? (Expected Publication Date)
- Is the publisher information described in a 264 #1 field instead of a 260? 260 is now obsolete.
- If a 264 #4 field is included it must have the © symbol after the |c.
- Review information and remove abbreviations in the 300?
- Do the required RDA fields 336 content, 337 media, and 338 carrier fields exist in the record?
- Do series statements appear in a 490? 440 is obsolete.
- Examine 5xx notes - review their content and order.
- Is the 504 field, if present, giving specific pagination in parentheses for bibliographical references?

- Is the 520 field in the general range of 50 words and is it free of subjective adjectives (like “Best-selling author, superb illustrations, etc.)? Rewrite or go find a shorter one if too long. Remember - with mobile devices the entry should not require multiple screens just to get to the end of the description.
- If there are 532 (Accessibility Note) and 546 (Language Note) fields for video recordings are they appropriate?
- Are the subject fields verified & NOT duplicated in the record? It is preferable to use 650_0 adult subject headings with |vJuvenile fiction instead of 650_1 subject headings with |vFiction. Do not repeat a subject heading.
- Are the 655 genre fields verified?
- Do the 7XX added entries include a relationship designator (subfield |e”) and verified?
- Do the 8xx fields match what is allowed in the authority record for the series? 800 for author series, 830 for title series? Check the Series Cheat Sheet for tracing in the authority record.
- Did you add a 929 field for your “initials” as the importer and/or editor of the record?
- Verify all fields when done (use upper right icon “Verify” - or individually verify MARC fields using the right click Verify Heading function).
- Use the “View Public Display” function to proofread your bib and item record in the OPAC. Make edits for spelling, grammar, etc. along with display of information related to spacing, punctuation, capitalization, etc.

Suggestions

The following are a few suggestions to help make our lives with RDA just a bit easier.

Set bookmarks in your internet browser that will link you to the Library of Congress lists of RDA terms for content, media, and carrier. There are so many that it's not possible to remember them all.

Good examples of RDA records can be found on the Library of Congress website at RDA Record Examples. Save, print, or bookmark these examples for ready reference.

Useful editing checklists and other cataloging information can be found at SHARE Empowering Libraries.

Basic Cataloging Decisions from the Official RDA Toolkit (updated 5/30/2024) can be found here Basic RDA Cataloging Decisions.

Remember, whenever using reference sources outside of MINERVA double check the Acceptable Cataloging for Minerva Libraries document and the checklist for importing bibs.

Create macros in your cataloging profile for quick and easy entry of essential fields like the 336, 337, 338, and 340 fields. This will help make your original cataloging efforts a bit more efficient. MACROS Minerva Manual

If you do any original cataloging, update your bibliographical record templates. Depending on what you have for templates, you can update the MARC leader, add relationship designators, and add content, media, and carrier fields, so that you won't have to add them in later. Open the Sierra Help Manual and type in templates in the Search bar.

Whenever you are working on a bib record, give it a careful review before saving it. You are expected to correct errors and have the ability to do so.

NOTE	520			Violeta viene al mundo un tormentoso día de 1920, siendo la primera niña de una familia de cinco bulliciosos hermanos. Desde el principio su vida estará marcada por acontecimientos extraordinarios, pues todavía se sienten las ondas expansivas de la Gran Guerra cuando la gripe española llega a las orillas de su país sudamericano natal, casi en el momento exacto de su nacimiento.
